The Humans Still Need John Connor

High Level Thoughts

Harvey and other AI products are a tool for lawyers, not a replacement

- AI does not think like a lawyer and cannot replace lawyer judgment
- AI is a force-multiplier for lawyers
- Less useful for strategic- and precision-oriented tasks

KVP's AI Use Policy

Steps Taken To Protect Client Confidentiality and Reduce Risk

- Client data protected by strict confidentiality controls
- Every output must be independently verified
- AI may not be used to replace attorney judgment
- AI may not be used to create drafts of court filings
- We monitor AI use and queries

How I Have Improved My Practice With Harvey

Tasks for which I now frequently use Harvey:

- Understanding and finding things in large documents/files
- Come up to speed faster (where cases involve complex businesses, technologies, contracts)
- Brainstorming ideas – what are the possible ways to think about this?
- Turning the chessboard around/sparring partner
- Drafting (do’s and don’ts)

Limitations Of Harvey

Harvey and other tools are not ready for the following:

- Original outlining and drafting
- Strategic decision-making
- Tasks that require precision or must be grounded in source material
